PRESIDENT'S PROSE

By Ben Alspach

MAGICAL MOMENTS...

The weather for the North Georgia meeting at Keswick Park in Chamblee GA turned out pretty nice in spite of a rough start earlier that Sunday morning. I was in and out of the Community Building numerous times both before and after the meeting and noticed quite a few "locals" who took time from their jogging, dog walking or kid chasing to check out the interesting cars we had on display. It was a nice, casual setting and "passers-by" were curious about the informal show.

On one of my many trips back and forth (I think I needed to retrieve something from my car.) I passed a Dad, maybe 35 years old, and his young son...probably a first or second grader. They were standing in front of Alan and Rochelle Ziglin's imposing '29 Studebaker sedan and the little boy was fascinated. As I passed, I heard him ask his Dad how that really old car got there. "Did they bring it on a trailer or pull it with a truck?"

"No," his father responded. "The sign here says the car runs and the people who own it probably DROVE it to the park, just like we drive our car through the park."

At this point the boy clearly was amazed that this ancient and exotic old behemoth actually ran and that someone could really drive the thing...just like a "regular" car. This was beyond the boy's belief! I could tell he was anxious for a closer look but his Dad was doing his parental duty and keeping close tabs on the youngster.

Alan must have been in the vicinity and also observed what was going between this father and son. As I came back by the car a few minutes later, the little boy was standing on the running board and the driver's door was open (evidently with Alan's permission and assistance). The boy was inspecting the interior of the relic and every few seconds would look at his Dad with a GIANT grin on his face, calling out another "weird feature" he discovered in the cabin. The weathered door with its square window opening created a perfect photo composition "frame" and Dad was eagerly capturing all the excitement with his smart phone.

I could tell it was a magical moment for this little boy and his Dad (and probably Alan, too!). For those few minutes, that old Studebaker sedan held the same fascination as a time machine, a space ship (Continued on Page 6...See President.)

Editor's Note: What was I thinking when I complained about the cold January weather the third week in January when I published the February 2014 issue of The Hillholder? Little did I know what was to come the next week—SNOW! After being stuck in traffic on icy, snowy roads for over four hours, having to leave my car in a Rite Aid parking lot, and being rescued by my son in his four-wheeled drive truck, I don't think I will complain about dry, cold weather ever again.

As they say, "You ain't seen nothing yet!" How true. How true. As I was writing this March issue of The Hillholder two weeks later, it snowed 8 more inches mixed with sleet and freezing rain over three days. This time our whole family was housebound and not on the road.

The snow brought long forgotten memories. When I was a freshman in college, my roommate's boyfriend owned a 1952 Studebaker. There was a lot of snow and ice in the winter in Terre Haute IN. We would go out to the icy parking lots and do donuts with his Studebaker. To a naive girl from a small town in rural southern Indiana, this was a daring experience. I could not know that after I married Bill, whom I did not know when I was in college, Studebaker would play a significant role in my life.

If you have any good snow pictures with your Studebaker from January or February, please e-mail some of them to me to share. Hopefully in the next issue of the newsletter, we will be talking about spring, but the pictures will make us appreciate it more.

Special thanks go to North Georgia member Bruce Rawley for providing pictures from the February meeting. If you take some good photos at North Georgia events, please e-mail them to me for use in the newsletter.

If you can attend only one North Georgia Chapter meeting this year, make it in March! Lory Healy has arranged a very special program for this meeting. See the details on page 10.

Thought for March: May you have the hindsight to know where you've been, the foresight to know where you're going, and the insight to know when you've gone too far."

FEBRUARY IN GEORGIA

North Georgia Chapter SDC Minutes
Sunday, February 2, 2014
Chamblee Community Center, Chamblee GA

Ben Alspach, President, called the meeting to order at 2:00 PM. He thanked the meeting hosts Alan, Rochelle, Michael and Carl Ziglin. He welcomed our guests. Sign-in Sheet being passed around.

Alan Ziglin moved, Mike Byrd seconded, to approve the January 2014 minutes as published in The Hillholder. Motion carried.

Charleen Carey moved, Alan Ziglin seconded, to approve the December 2013 Treasurer's Report as published in The Hillholder. Motion carried.

Ben congratulated those with February birthdays/anniversaries.

Announcements

Ben – The SDC is having a coin auction to fund scholarships. Details will be in Turning Wheels. Remember to vote (by March 31, 2014) for the Southeast Zone Director position (for which Ed Burriss is a candidate).

Reports

1. Ed Burriss (National): Board will have a telephone meeting on March 9. Ed believes this is not proper, as no members have any input. The Executive Committee continues to adopt rules and regulations with no input. He attended a meet in Tennessee and was surprised that the Tennessee candidate running for the Southeast Zone Director position did not attend. The attendees at the meet indicated they were voting for Ed (Ed did not campaign while at the meet.)
2. Wayne Lee (Zone): The April 2014 Studebaker Swap Meet has been postponed. The 50th anniversary of the Zone Meets will be in 2018. This would be a great time for a club to volunteer to host the meet. He received 648 paper surveys (not sure as to how many online surveys were received). The committee has done a preliminary accounting of the results: the average age of the members who completed the survey is 70 1/2. 44% of the members are computer literate but only 12% have visited the SDC web page. The complete report will be in Turning Wheels.
3. Bill Delli (Treasurer): Balance 1/01/2014 was $4924.96. Balance 1/31/2014 was $5046.96. Complete report in The Hillholder.
4. Charlotte Delli (Editor): Send her photos of your Studebakers in the snow.
5. Barbara Miller (Membership): 2014 dues due by March 1. 22 households have not yet paid.

Unfinished Business:

The North Georgia Chapter Exec Board is working on the cleanup of the chapter By-laws. When they have a completed document, it will be published in The Hillholder and then presented to the Chapter for comment and approval. The updated By-laws will be sent to National for approval.

New Business:

Richard Knoblock has a contact for the 57th Fighter Group Restaurant at Peachtree DeKalb Airport. If anyone is interested in hosting their meeting there, call Richard.

The next meeting is Sunday, March 1st in Tucker GA, hosted by Lory Healy. Tour of the Cofer Collection is at 10:00 AM, followed by lunch at a restaurant about 6 blocks from Cofer's. (Plan to arrive by 9:30 AM.)

Guest David Hagerman talked about the plans for the Raymond Loewy Museum of Industrial Design. David, the husband of the late Laurence Loewy, was driving Raymond Loewy's last car, a dark gold 1975 Avanti II.

Guest Dan McNichol talked about Dire States, a program to educate the public about the failing infrastructure and highway system in the USA. Dan is driving a rusty 1949 Hudson around the country to advertise the program.

Dan Miller moved, Rochelle Ziglin seconded, to adjourn at 2:45 PM. Motion carried.

Door prizes were given out. Alan Ziglin won $60.00 in the 50/50. North Georgia Chapter banked $60.00. Submitted by Terry Ziemer, Recording Secretary

STUDEBAKER SPOTLIGHT THE STUDEBAKER LOGO

By Charlotte Delli, Editor

Brand logos are visual representations of a product or commodity, which allow the consumer to identify it instantly. A logo lets people know the nature of the product and creates an impression—negative or positive—for the product. How a logo is perceived can “make or break” a product. It has been said “a picture is worth a thousand words” and nothing could be more true about a logo. A logo conveys more than mere words and can affect a product’s success in the market place.

Studebaker was a master at using logos. The first Studebaker logo (pictured on page one) was used from 1912 to 1935. This logo is the “turning wheel.” Featured along with this logo is the Studebaker script from 1917 (also pictured on page one).

In the 1930’s, Studebaker designer Raymond Loewy created the “lazy S” logo for Studebaker. This logo was used until 1964. From 1964 to 1968, Studebaker used an improved, more modern variation of the “lazy S,” (shown below) which also was created by Raymond Loewy.

Adaptations of these logos also have been employed for Studebaker and are shown below.

The Studebaker logos have been adapted for use by related organizations as well. For example, the “turning wheel” is used in the logo for the Studebaker

Drivers Club (SDC), an organization dedicated to the preservation of the Studebaker legacy. The original logo for the SDC later was updated

Original Logo

Updated Logo

On a side note, it is said that the original Pepsi Cola logo, debuted in the 1940’s, bears a striking resemblance to the Studebaker “lazy S.” Pepsi vigorously denies this claim, but it did a significant redesign of its logo in 2009. Unfortunately, the Pepsi logo cannot be reproduced here for comparison because of copyright laws, but its logos can be seen at www.pepsico.com.

Logos are available for products affecting every aspect of life and have had a major impact on the automotive industry.

(President...Continued from Page 2) or the most exotic ride at Disney World. I’ll bet they looked at the video on the way home from the park and then showed it to Mom when they arrived there. I suspect the next day a few other kids at school heard about the “awesome old cars” and Dad probably shared the story with Grandpa and maybe a couple of friends at the office, too.

Lots of youngsters—and adults—are interested in our old cars. We just need to make them accessible and exhibit the willingness to help “unlock their mysteries.” This boy and his Dad won’t soon forget that fantastic old Studebaker. All in all, a pretty good day’s work. See you in March!

TECHNICAL TOPICS

A STITCH IN TIME

By Charlotte Delli, Editor

My husband Bill and I just learned an expensive lesson week that I thought I would share just in case anyone else could have the misfortune of reliving our experience. If you know to do what we didn't, you could save yourself a lot of money.

On February 7th, Bill tried to open our garage door and it would not budge. It seemed way too heavy to lift. At the time, our vehicles were parked outside on the driveway or we really would have been in a fix.

Bill disconnected the garage door opener and tried to open the door manually. There was still too much pressure to raise it. Inspection revealed that one of the two recoil springs had broken in half.

Calling a repairman was the only option. He repaired the spring by replacing it. To be on the safe side, we also had the unbroken spring replaced since it was likely if one spring failed the other would soon follow. Bill and I were both curious about why the spring had broken. We have had garage doors for the past forty years and never experienced such a failure before. The repairman said that the broken spring was a result of two things: the extreme cold temperatures (some below zero with the wind chill) and the lack of maintenance on the springs.

Bill periodically performs preventive maintenance on the rails and the rollers. About every six months, he applies a coating of lithium (white) grease on the rails and applies common motor oil to the rollers. The repairman said that a coating of common motor oil also should be applied to the recoil springs every six months. That is what we did not do. The repairman stressed that WD-40 should NOT be used on the springs. Our springs will be oiled every six months from now on. I even may try my hand at it. I would much rather spend money on myself or the Studebakers, not the garage doors.

NORTH GEORGIA CHAPTER FEBRUARY 2014 MEETING SURPRISE GUEST

David Hagerman, husband of the late Laurence Loewy (daughter of Raymond Loewy), was a surprise guest at the February 2014 meeting of the North Georgia Chapter SDC.

David Hagerman

The last Studebaker owned by Raymond Loewy—a 1975 Avanti II— was driven to the meeting by Mr. Hagerman

During the meeting, Mr. Hagerman made a brief presentation about the Raymond Loewy Museum of Industrial Design or “The Loewy.”

He explained that the museum, the vision of Laurence Loewy in honor of her father, will be dedicated to education. It will house state-of-the-art interactive media to draw younger generations to appreciate art and good design. It will meld the old with the new by integrating exhibits of the works of Raymond Loewy with those of current artists and designers. These individuals also will participate in the museum to share their wisdom and experience.

Groundbreaking for the museum, which is expected to take place in the fall of 2014, will be in southern California.
